

Safety Guidelines

„No work is so urgent that there is not enough time to do it safely.“

Each accident can be prevented

Safety and health protection have the highest priority. The aim is to prevent accidents at work and work-related illnesses through sensible, preventive measures, instructions and information.

Safe working conditions as a permanent management task

Integrity, health and well-being of our employees are a major concern of the management.

Through their conduct, our managers shape the safety and health-conscious behaviour of our employees. To achieve our safety goals, we implement the „ECO SWISS“ industry standard.

For their own safety and the safety of others

Our employees follow regulations, instructions and existing agreements and have the right to actively contribute to the encouragement and maintenance of safety.
